ANSWER FEEDBACK

Question 1

You should never send pictures of yourself to a stranger as you don't know who they are or what they might do. If a stranger asks for a picture, refuse and tell an adult straight away.

You should also never send a picture to somebody that you wouldn't want anybody else to see. Even if you trust the person, it could still end up online or be shown to others.

Question 2

You should only ever accept friend requests from people who you definitely know. Never accept friend requests from strangers or anybody you're unsure of.

Question 3

Anybody may be able to see what you post online. Speak to an adult and ask them to help with your privacy settings.

Question 4

You should show your teacher the photo and tell them what has happened. Think about how you would feel if the picture was of you.

Question 5

You should speak to an adult about what has happened and tell them that you don't like it. They can then try to get the video taken down.

Question 6

You must tell an adult straight away if somebody going to meet a person that they met online. You should never meet people unless you know who they are for certain.

Question 7

Calling somebody mean names online is cyberbullying. You should tell an adult about it and not ignore it.

Question 8

You should always keep your passwords to yourself. It could be dangerous if your password fell into the wrong hands.

Question 9

You should always speak to an adult if a website asks you to download something. You never know what it could be.

Question 10

The strongest passwords have a combination of letters, numbers and punctuation. You should never use anything linked to your name because it's very easy to guess.
